What Does the Course Cover?

Competition Law consists of three modules, each covering key aspects of competition law and ending with a short module quiz comprising randomly generated questions. A course test, also randomised and based on specific objectives of all three modules, completes the course.

The Basics

- gives an overview of Irish competition law.
- describes anticompetitive agreements.
- explains abuse of a dominant position.

Enforcing the Law

- explains the roles of the Competition and Consumer Protection Commission (CCPC) and the European Commission.
- describes how the CCPC enforces competition law.
- lists company policies and guidelines that govern the correct approach to competition law.

Considerations for Companies

- explains why the effects of an agreement are as important as its purpose.
- defines vertical and horizontal agreements.
- lists considerations that are relevant to avoiding breaches of the legislation.
- discusses permitted forms of cooperation between firms.
